Empowering People

Christmas 2026

I'll be Home for Christmas

Many people are familiar with the origins of this Christmas classic. It was written in 1943 and was intended to recognize not only the soldiers overseas at that time but bring hope to every family that experienced separation due to the war. It was a massive hit, particularly within the military, and has come to symbolize the longing within each of us to have a home and family to return to this time of year. It ends with the phrase "if only in my dreams' to encourage people to keep dreaming and keep hope alive.

One cannot dream without hope. Proverbs 13:12 says, "Hope deferred makes the heart sick, but a longing fulfilled is a tree of life." We have long sought to bring hope to those who have none, but we've also harboured a hope and a dream of our own. We wanted a home.

To say that seeing this longing fulfilled is a tree of life is truly an understatement. We are finishing the final phases of our Coming Hope campaign. The tree has many branches, all of them bringing the life-changing Gospel to more people.

We'll be home for Christmas, and thanks to you, our dreams have become a reality.

Merry Christmas!

Wrapping Up the Coming Home Campaign

We are closer than ever to completing our Coming Home Campaign! Thanks to the generosity of donors, churches, businesses, and community partners, we are raising the funds for a future filled with hope. Today, just $1.7 million remains to complete our $10.4 million campaign, with our hope to wrap up the campaign by the end of this year.

Our Mission and Client services have a home at 711 2A Ave N. Our Recovery programming (as well as administration and fund development) has a home at 1254 3rd Ave S. Our women have a home, and now, we've started renovations on our new men's home.

Your support has helped bring our Mission Services building to life, establish dedicated spaces for our recovery programs, and move us forward with the new Exodus Men's Recovery Home. Each milestone brings us closer to ensuring that people experiencing homelessness, addiction, and poverty have access to the care, support, and Christ-centred recovery they need.

Every gift helps ensure these homes continue serving our community for generations to come. So, this Christmas, help us finish what we started. Together, we can bring the Coming Home Campaign to completion and make room for even more stories of hope, healing, and transformed lives.

Thank you for believing in this vision and helping make home possible.

Donors give through us, not to us. Thank you for bringing hope!
